William G. Baker and Dr. John J. Patrick Civic Education Awards Nomination Guidelines

The William G. Baker and Dr. John J. Patrick Civic Education Awards were instituted to honor Dr. John J. Patrick, professor emeritus at Indiana University, and New Castle attorney William G. Baker. Both men are long-time leaders of Indiana's successful We the People: The Citizen and the Constitution program. These awards were instituted by the Indiana State Bar Association's Citizenship Education Committee in 2005 and are now presented by the Indiana Bar Foundation.

The William G. Baker Award is presented annually during the We the People state finals competition to an attorney or retired attorney who has shown outstanding dedication to citizenship education.

The Dr. John Patrick Award is presented annually during the We the People state finals competition to a non-attorney who makes an outstanding contribution to citizenship education.
